

Your Care

- You will get to meet new members of the Juravinski Cancer Centre, particularly the clinical trials research team.
- Most times, your oncologist will remain the same, but sometimes your care will transfer to the oncologist and nurse trained in the clinical trial.
- Once the trial is completed, your care will return to your original oncologist and primary care team.
- Agreeing to participate or not participate in a clinical trial will not affect the quality of care your oncologist provides you.
- Should you decide not to participate in a clinical trial, your decision will not affect the standard of care you receive provided by your oncologist and primary care team
